KurzbeschreibungA First Time Romance - Part 1 of 3Akira Monroe is almost your typical sophomore in college. Having grown up in a suffocatingly strict Christian environment with a pair of extremely devout parents, Akira has lived all her life obediently adhering to their excessive rules. Despite her virginity and her close-minded surroundings, her sexual curiosity flourished, and now at the age of nineteen, it is now at its peak.Akira is overjoyed when her parents allowed her to take a non-Christian-based course, electing to take the highly recommended ethics class, led by Professor Gregory Bradshaw. Just freshly broken up with her equally religious boyfriend, she was resolute on finally exploring her sexuality. She is instantly drawn to the gorgeous, intelligent older man. With her newfound perspective in life, she seeks out to seduce the sexy ethics professor, determined to do anything to get her way...Journey through episode one of Baiting the Professor and you will be hanging to find out what happens next!
