A must-readVon HennoHaving read the other 5 novels of the PsyCop series, GhosTV was not only as good as them but it got even better.J.C. Price develops the main characters over the course of the novels (and the shorts) always in a believable and in-depth way.For those who don't know the series:Vic, a high level medium in a world where psychic abilities are a fact, if not always appreciated by non-psychs, is a detective in a PsyCop team of 2 (1 psych and 1 NP - non-psychoic or "stiff"). He struggles with his talent, that to him is often more a curse than a gift (who would want to always see gruesome ghosts at every intersection?). Between that and a time of "training" 13 years before, that left him more traumatized than ready to use his ability, he's become a sarcastic and distrusting guy, who only wants to do his work and otherwise be left alone. Fortunately he meets Jacob (at the retirement party of his longtime workpartner), who is into all things psychic and, more importantly, into Vic. Jacob and Vic's new partner Lisa change his life, even if it sometimes seems that Vic only tags along. In GhosTV Vic and Jacob fly to California to find Lisa, who disappeared from a training facility for psychs. Of course the flying part is where the trouble already starts. I like how the stories are told in Vic's internal monologue, with its self-deprecating tone and irony. It is a compelling, funny and entertaining read, even if you don't believe in psychic and supernatural things. And I really appreciated that Jacob took on a bigger role in this story and that he plays an important part in helping Vic help Lisa (and a few others...). If you are new to the PsyCop stories, I recommend you start with the first novel "Among the Living" and take it from there. And don't be surprised if you find yourself reading the whole series in one go (barring necessities like work and sleep). And then to re-read it :-)

Von Customer I really like the mysterious cases detective vic bayne is working on and his Talent and his insecurities are somehow hilarious and how he just walks through everything never stops to amaze me how determiniert he is... He said he's not a people person but his instinct to protect the people he cares about is really really cool and adorable... Can't wait to read more!

Kurzbeschreibung For the past dozen years, Victor Bayne has solved numerous murders by interrogating witnesses only he can seedead witnesses. But when his best friend Lisa goes missing from the sunny California campus of PsyTrain, the last thing he wants to find there is her spirit. Disappearing without a trace in a school full of psychics? That's some trick. But somehow both Lisa and her roommate have vanished into thin air. A group of fanatics called Five Faith has been sniffing around, and Lisa's email is compromised. Time is running out, and with no ghosts to cross-examine, Vic can't afford to turn down any offers of help. An old enemy can provide an innovative way to track Vic's missing friend, and he enters into an uneasy alliance even though its ultimate cost will ensnare him in a debt he may never manage to settle.
