taste in clothes and seemed to be ultimately forgettable, what would you do to attract the man of your dreams who lives down the road and is a hunky fireman? Well Pea Chamberlain decides, after one more embarrassing and disappointing encounter with Griffin DeAngelo, to invoke the goddess Venus to help her to catch her man. And rather unexpectedly Venus shows up, although initially Pea thinks she's just a rather attractive other woman. Venus immediately offers to help Pea to sort out her life and attract Griffin, despite a rather unhelpful attraction that Venus herself feels to Griffin. Venus is the goddess of love but her own life has been devoid of love for some time. She's in a marriage of convenience with Vulcan the god of fire who is a friend but no more. What Venus doesn't realise is that Vulcan has seen Pea and he senses something in her that draws him. Can Venus set Pea up with Griffin and yet find her own love, can Vulcan truly feel valued and important with a mortal woman? This book is written with a light and engaging style. Venus and Vulcan, despite being immortal deities, seem to join in with mortal life in Tulsa with some relish. The author peppers the story with places and people that are real and that's fun although sometimes it seems a bit grating. There are some amusing events and the story moves along very quickly. My only quibble is that the message of the book seems to be that Pea had to spend a fair bit of money on doing a makeover before she truly became worthy of love and that instant attraction is enough for long-term happiness. The twist to the ending wasn't unexpected but it did round it off nicely and tie up the loose ends. This is an enjoyable and sexy book for light reading with some fun references to mythology. A great story Von Kerstin So entertaining I can read it again and again and again and again ... it never gets boring and it never leaves my eyes ... dry.

Kurzbeschreibung International bestselling author P.C. Cast brings us the magical, sensual Goddess Summoning series, which retells ancient myths with a sexy, modern twist - original, enthralling and utterly unputdownable . . . Pea Chamberlain wants some help. Her shoes, hair, clothes, make-up are all disasters and she really needs a makeover - especially if she wants to attract sexy fireman Griffin DeAngelo at the firemen's masked ball. And who better to coax Pea out of her pod than the Goddess of Love, whom she invokes when she gets her hands on a book of enchantments. Sure enough, Venus works her magic on Pea, which is what she has been doing for eons - helping others find love. But who will help the Goddess of Love when she finds herself falling head over heels for the same sexy fireman she is trying to land for Pea? Could it be that Venus needs a love makeover herself?
