Von Dee DeTarsio : Haole Wood (English Edition) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Haole Wood (English Edition):

KundenrezensionenHilfreichste Kundenrezensionen2 von 2 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Bitte, bitte kauft Euch dieses Buch!!!Von NicoleSo eine super Sommerlektre habe ich selten in der Hand gehabt! Von der ersten bis zur letzten Seite habe ich mit der Heldin gelacht und mitgebangt! Absolut super von vorne bis hinten! Ich habe mir schon ein weiteres Buch von Dee DeTarsio gekauft, The Sent Of Jade, und das ist genauso gut.Es ist mir echt ein Rtsel, warum die Autorin nicht viel bekannter ist.Mehr davon!Absolutely good read! Buy it!!!

KurzbeschreibungMaui . . . Murder . . . Mystery When Jaswinder Park is mysteriously summoned to the island of Maui in Hawaii to help out her grandmother (who was in jail for selling pakalolo), she ends up losing her job. This fair-haired, light-skinned foreigner, called 'haole' by the natives, drowns her sorrows in a local bar with a charming land developer--who ends up dead. Jaswinder needs to stay on the island to find the killer and prove it wasn't her grandmother. A blistering sunburn leads her to a surfing dermatologist, as well as a whole new career: designing protective resort clothing for sensitive skin. From launching her clothing line, Haole Wood, to keeping her grandmother out of trouble, Jaswinder learns to embrace the island way of life. Where's a guardian angel when you need one? Aloha! Winner: San Diego Book Awards, Romance Next Generation Indie Book Awards Finalist Readers' Choice Nominee, Books and Pals With homage to goddess authors Jojo Moyes and Colleen Hoover, Haole Wood shines a bright light on love and laughter.

ber den Autor und weitere MitwirkendeAfter growing up in Ennui, Ohio, and graduating from Ohio State University, Dee vowed never to be cold again (in a tantrum more worthy of Suellen than Scarlett) and ended up in Tucson, Arizona, producing the news for the CBS affiliate, oddly enough called KOLD-TV. Dee moved to San Diego where she worked in the SeaWorld entertainment department as a Producer/Writer. (Penguins are mean!) She then became a Producer/Writer with NBC for a live, comedy/variety show. Though her father was never famous and her mother never beat her (that hard!) she suspects one of her sisters is a vampire. From the girl who ate too many potato chips, Dee is the author of The Scent of Jade and The Kitchen Shrink (both finalists in the San Diego Book Awards) Til Somebody Loves You, Ros, and newly released, Haole Wood.
