Von Donna Andrews : Some Like It Hawk: A Meg Langslow Mystery (Meg Langslow Mysteries) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Some Like It Hawk: A Meg Langslow Mystery (Meg Langslow Mysteries):

Kundenrezensionen Hilfreichste Kundenrezensionen 3 von 3 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Slightly disappointed Von Christiane von Lewinski I have read all books from the Meg Langslow series and I loved every single one, of course I was very eager to get the new one. I have read it fairly quick but this was the first time I was never laughing out loud. The characters are great but this time they have lost their special traits. Rose Noir was behaving normal, Meg's dad was charming eccentric but never did anything unpredictable that she had to fix again. Everyone was too normal in this book - but probably the plot was crazy enough ... I still enjoyed the book but I do hope that Donna Andrews will be back to the way she has written the books before. Therefore this time it is just worth 4 stars. I am still waiting for the next one and hope she will reconnect to the former, funny entertainment. 3 von 3 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Nicht ganz auf der Höhe Von Fuchs Joanvielleicht ist das aber etwas unfair, weil ich schlicht nicht genug Musse hatte, um mich richtig darauf konzentrieren zu können. Wieder einmal ist Meg inner 3 Tagen einen Fall, es geht um Tunnel, versteckte Dokumente, Belagerung und paramilitärische Organisationen, eigentlich eine komplexe Mischung, zudem noch während der Feierlichkeiten für den 4. Juli. Aber dennoch hat es mich nicht vollständig gepackt. Vielleicht 4.3 Punkte. 1 von 1 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Pleasant read as usual Von Sternchen I have nothing bad to say, even though I think, it is one of the weaker books. I found the descriptions of the move through the tunnel not very clear and easy to understand, but it might also be due to the fact, that I am no native speaker.

Kurzbeschreibung Meg helps run Caerphilly's summer arts and crafts festival while trying to smoke out a murderer return up the heat, because Some Like it Hawk! The hilariously funny Donna Andrews delivers another winner in the award-winning New York Times bestselling series that has captured human and avian hearts alike. Meg Langslow is plying her blacksmith's trade at "Caerphilly Days," a festival inspired by her town's sudden notoriety as "The Town That Mortgaged Its Jail." The lender has foreclosed on all Caerphilly's public buildings, and all employees have evacuated except one. Phineas Throckmorton, the town clerk, has been barricaded in the courthouse basement for over a year. Mr. Throckmorton's long siege has only been possible because of a pre-Civil War tunnel leading from the courthouse basement to a crawl space beneath the bandstand. The real reason for Caerphilly Days is to conceal the existence of the tunnel: the tourist crowds camouflage supply deliveries, and the ghastly screeching of the tunnel's rusty trap door is drowned out by as many noisy activities as the locals can arrange. But the lender seems increasingly determined to evict Mr. Throckmorton and may succeed after one of its executives is found shot, apparently from inside the basement. Meg and her fellow townspeople suspect that someone hopes to end the siege by framing Mr. Throckmorton. Unless the real killer can be found quickly, the town will have to reveal the secret of the tunnel and the fact that they've been aiding and abetting the basement's inhabitant. Meg soon deduces that the killer isn't just trying to end the siege but to conceal information that would help the town reclaim its buildings--if the townspeople can find it before the lender destroys it in a gut-busting caper that will have giggles and guffaws coming as fast as a four-alarm fire. A gaggle of praise for Donna Andrews and the Meg Langslow Mystery Series: "If you long for more fun mysteries, a la Janet Evanovich, you'll love Donna Andrews's Meg Langslow series." Charlotte Observer "A long-running series that gets better all the time. A fine blend of academic satire, screwball comedy, and murder." Booklist "As always, Andrews laces this entertaining whodunit with wit, a fine storyline and characters we've come to know and love." Richmond Times-Dispatch on The Real Macaw Pressestimmen Praise for Some Like it Hawk Donna Andrews is known for combining wicked crimes with witty storytelling, and her latest novel featuring blacksmith Meg Langslow, Some Like It Hawk, lives up to its 13 predecessors. An exercise in homicide and humor, "Some Like It Hot" will prey on the reader's little gray cells and funny bone alike. Richmond Times-Dispatch A satisfactory whodunit with plenty of wrong turns and red herrings Just the cool tonic for a hot summer afternoon. Star News (Wilmington, NC) Warm, charming. Publishers Weekly Engaging. Booklist comic inspiration fun. Kirkus s Humorous--Library Journal The latest Meg Langslow Mysteries is a great tale that satirizes the financial industry as a bunch of predatory hawks who will do anything for another golf course. Filled with eccentric characters, fans will relish this jocular whodunit. -- <http://themysterygazette.blogspot.com> A gaggle of praise for Donna Andrews and the Meg Langslow Mystery Series: If you long for more fun mysteries, a la Janet Evanovich, you'll love Donna Andrews's Meg Langslow series.
