Some Like It HotVon Botteron MargotBei Susan Andersen schtze ich ihren etwas schrgen Humor und Witzigkeit bei den Charakteren und auch bei den Situationen. Imer etwas over the top.0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. ok ok !! Von Rachita Jain I like my books with more humour, more dialogue n less explanations... I guess this one needs more of all the three..

Kurzbeschreibung "Wrong for each other" never felt more right Even a lifelong traveler like Harper Summerville has to admire the scenery in Razor Bay, Washington. There's the mountains. The evergreens. The water. And Max Bradshaw, the incredibly sexy deputy sheriff. Still, Harper's here only for the summer, working covertly for her family's foundation. And getting involved with this rugged, intense former marine would be a definite conflict of interest professionally and personally. Max's scarred childhood left him determined to put down roots in Razor Bay, yet one look at Harper a woman who happily lives out of a suitcase leaves him speechless with desire for things he's never had. He might not be big on talking, but Max's toe-curling kisses are getting the message across loud and clear. Harper belongs here, with him, because things are only beginning to heat up. Pressestimmen "Guaranteed snap, sizzle and sass!" --New York Times bestselling author Carly Phillips "This warm summer contemporary melts hearts with the simultaneous blossoming of familial and romantic love." --Publishers Weekly on That Thing Called Love "Guaranteed snap, sizzle and sass!" --New York Times bestselling author Carly Phillips "A smart, arousing, spirited escapade that is graced with a gentle mystery, a vulnerable, resilient heroine, and a worthy, wounded hero and served up with empathy and a humorous flair." --Library Journal on Burning Up "A sexy feel-good contemporary romance... a winner." --Publishers Weekly on Bending the Rules Kurzbeschreibung "Wrong for each other" never felt more right Even a lifelong traveler like Harper Summerville has to admire the scenery in Razor Bay, Washington.
